NEC appoints Destiny Electronics as Executive Hospitality Partner in Zimbabwe and surrounding region

Hilversum, Zimbabwe, 28 September 2015 – NEC Enterprise Solutions, leader in enterprise Communications & IT solutions, today announced that it has appointed Destiny Electronics as its Executive Hospitality Partner in Zimbabwe and surrounding region. The countries that will be supported by Destiny Electronics as Executive Hospitality Partner include Zimbabwe, Zambia, Malawi, Uganda, Madagascar, Mozambique and the Seychelles.

Denhard Jongman, Key Account Director NEC Smart Hospitality, explains: “Our Executive Hospitality Partnership program aims at mutual growth and profitability in the important Hospitality sector. Through this program we recognize and support Business Partners that invest in and promote the value of our integrated solutions, enabling them to go-to-market more successfully and help them to create new, profitable opportunities. Destiny has already considerable experience and success in serving the Hospitality segment. This appointment is recognition of their expertise and dedication, as well as an additional support and stimulus to all stakeholders involved”.

Dave Easterbrook, Executive Director of Destiny Electronics, confirms: “The Hospitality sector is a key business area for us and thanks to the continued focus and support of NEC with respect to hospitality we have been successful in developing this market segment in Zimbabwe and beyond over past years. We are extremely pleased and honored with our selection as Executive Hospitality Partner and are convinced that this will further strengthen our activities and our continued success in working with leading national and international hotel operators.”

Executive Hospitality Partnership

With its Global Smart Hospitality drive and Executive Hospitality Partner Program NEC further builds on its in-depth experience and expertise in serving the hotel industry worldwide and reinforces the company’s leadership in providing best in class solutions to the sector.

The program addresses and supports the 4 main aspects of Sell, Learn, Support and Promote and includes marketing support in raising awareness, developing leads, training staff and supporting implementations. Partners that since the launch of the programme have had the honor to become Executive Hospitality Partner within NEC’s Smart Hospitality Framework were Advance in Russia, Teksam in Turkey, addCIT in Sweden, MER ICT of The Netherlands, FMG and Ophelia in Germany, Gijima in South Africa and Southern Communications in the UK. Now Destiny is added to that list.
